

I am aware that entities wholly unconnected to my campaign are running ads featuring an extremely old and unflattering photo of my opponent.

While the substantive message in the ads is important, the use of that photo is absolutely out of bounds. I do not support the shaming of any person for their physical appearance.

Please know that neither I nor anyone associated with my campaign had anything to do with that photo, and that I have asked the group sponsoring the ad to immediately replace it.